

The Time

NOW is the time we've been waiting for
to ferry across to the farther shore.

Now is the time to give up blame.
these times will never be the same.

Now is the time to leave behind
the stuffy strictures of a closet mind.

Now is the time for outer space,
to show our courage and live in our grace.

Now is to do what's never been done,
to share our wisdom and freedom and fun.

All the wonder and all delight
await the one who comes to light.

Now is the time.
